

An aerial photograph of an industrial area. A red rectangular box highlights a specific site. The site contains several large, light-colored rectangular structures, possibly storage tanks or collection units, arranged in a row. There are also some smaller buildings and a paved area. To the left of the highlighted area, a road is labeled "GIL HARBIN INDUSTRIAL BLVD" in yellow text. The surrounding area is mostly green, suggesting grass or trees, with some other industrial buildings and parking lots visible in the background.
